

The Missing Piece in Creating Loving Relations

Rita Soman, MA, CADC III

For many people, relationships can be most challenging & painful of human experiences. We all desire to attract a better partner but many of us end up in the vicious cycle of attracting what we don't like.

Look A-Like Relationships...

Many people are unaware of the fact that, it is our subconscious mind that automatically attracts what it is familiar with. The science reveals that beliefs downloaded into our subconscious minds when we were children, control behavior and gene activity and, consequently, the unfolding of our lives, says Dr. Bruce Lipton. If our parents and care givers who were our role models, didn't demonstrate healthy behaviors towards us and with each other, those experiences get locked into our subconscious mind, and attract similar partners. Until we heal from our childhood traumas, we can't bring BIG love into our lives.

"As I learned again and again in my life, until you get your own act together, you're not ready for Big Love. What you are ready for is one of those codependent relationships where you desperately need a partner." ~Dr. Bruce Lipton, The Honeymoon Effect

The Good News...

Originated by Robert M. Williams in 1988, PSYCH-K® can help us to free our mind from past traumas and reprogram the subconscious with positive beliefs, that enhances our ability to attract relationships we desire.

"PSYCH-K is a mega-tool for transformation. Since Rita brought this amazingly simple, yet profound tool into my life, I've experienced countless breakthroughs myself and as a practitioner seeing long-term, life-changing shifts happen within minutes. PSYCH-K is the most powerful tool I've found to clean up the past so that we can get on with living our lives in love and freedom.

And the biggest surprise bonus. I had done a lot of PSYCH-K balancing on relationship issues even though I wasn't really looking for a partner, and within just a few weeks I met the love of my life. I hadn't even dreamed that a relationship could be this amazing and the way it all happened was absolutely miraculous. I'm so grateful that I had cleaned up my limiting beliefs so I was able to recognize and receive the miracle. We are SO happy!" ~NS, Salt Lake City, UTAH
